DEDICATION

- To a man whose daily toils are directed to a service that tends to raise the plane of civilization:
- To a man whose high ideals have been proved worthy of repetition by other men:
- To a man who has given his all to the cause of education:
- To Colonel G. F. McAllister we reverently dedicate this,

THE 1925 TOUR PATH

It has been said that "To err is human"; inasmuch as we, the editors of The 1925 Tour Path, are human, be lenient with your, no doubt, just criticisms of this book. It has been our aim in editing this book to leave with the students a lasting memory of all that is characteristic of student life on the "Hill." Whether we have succeeded in attaining our aim rests with each individual to decide for himself.

THE SPIRIT OF M. P. C. I.

HE growth of M. P. C. I., although hampered by the need of added facilities, has been remarkable. From the very first she has pushed forward through the rough channels of school existence, brought upon her by the need of certain, additional facilities, but with a spirit which is so characteristic of a forward determination she has attained a phenomenal success.

From a certain viewpoint one might think that this is due to leadership. This might be true to a certain extent, but it is more wholly due to that determination of faculty and students working in harmony, which we must call the "Spirit of M. P. C. I." Go on the campus, go in any classroom, go in any one of the Society Halls, go to any activity of the students; in fact, visit any place on the campus at any time, then you will be impressed by what we call the "Spirit of M. P. C. I."

This spirit is not something which succeeding classes carry away, it will stay with "Old C. I." forever. We can't describe it. We do not even know one figure of speech by which we can make it more clear to you. All that we can say is that there is an indescribable fellowship, determination and will among the faculty and students of M. P. C. I. which is appreciated by every one who comes in contact with the school.

ALMA MATER

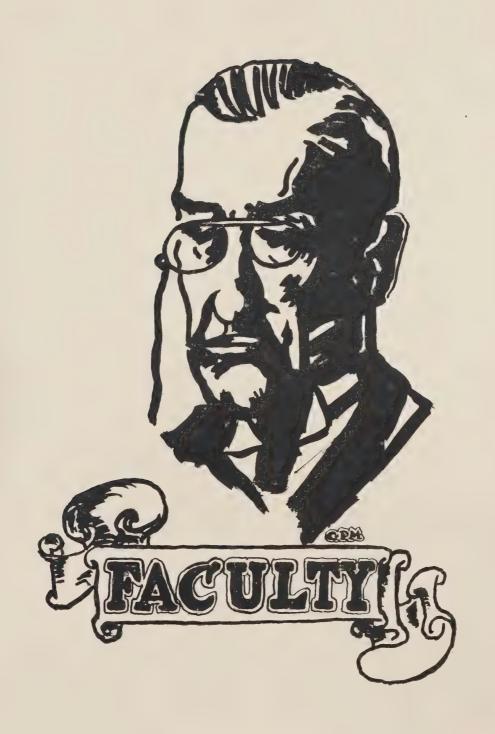

There's a place we all love, with affection true, And we'll tell you of it now; Why it holds our love, why we'd fight for it, To have it win somehow.

It stands on a hill high o'er a town
Midst trees majestic all around.

It's our Alma Mater of which we sing,
Let us make her praises ring.

Then up with M. P. C. I., down with all mighty foes, We know it can be done, and do it—sure we will! And when at last we win, all her sons we'll gather in And cheer and shout day in and out For old M. P. C. I.

We love it deeper as each year rolls by,
Time endears it more and more;
It's because of the spirit that lives on "The Hill,"
The spirit of "the boys" of yore.
Travel where we may, travel where we will,
The C. I. spirit follows us still;
It moulds our lives from day to day,
And helps us on our way.

Tom, with the "million dollar" smile. How we all envy that smile. He is a quiet, happy, unassuming sort of fellow much admired by his classmates. We feel sure that his hearty laugh will win him a myriad of friends next year. Luck to you, old man.

RICHARD BOWIE BENNETT, JR. CHARLESTON, S. C.

"R. B."

Corporal Company "B," '23; First Sergeant, '24; First Lieutenant, '25; Y. M. C. A., '22, '23, '24, '25; Preparatorian Literary Society, '22, '23; Gerhardt Literary Society, '24, '25; Treasurer Senior Class.

Age 16 Years

"R. B." is one of our most popular boys. He is always ready to do anything for class or school. The real genius of "R. B." lies on the drill field, he being one of the best-drilled men in school. During his stay at the Institute "R. B." has made many friends throughout the school.

"Crip"

Preparatorian Literary Society, '23; Gerhardt Literary Society, '24, '25; Tennis Club; Corporal Company "A," '24; Second Lieutenant, '25.

Age 19 Years

Marvin, our "happy boy," comes from town. Having spent all his life in the largest town in North Carolina without a railroad, we admire his ambitious spirit, a spirit which will gain him honors some day.

Howard is the little wit of our class. Many times has he tantalized Captain Holman with satiric retorts. We hope to see you practice medicine and of course make a sweeping success.

Bernard is from Michigan, traveling to all parts of the United States he finally landed in Detroit. His idea is to get a Ford and rattle himself through every school. We trust that it will be of use to him when he completes "medicine at Roanoke."

"Dick," our Staff Bugler, is a merry little fellow. He bugles for mess, for church, and for dress, and at the end of the day bugles us to rest. Dick never fails to talk on any subject whether he knows anything about it or not. Carolina will be fortunate to have such a merry little fellow as Dick next year.

Age 18 Years

Hats off to Pleas! He has been one of the mainstays of our class. A little unsettled at first, 'tis true, but he has finally been convinced that "the Hill" is the most beloved spot in the State. His pleasing personality has won him many friends at the Institute. Deeds and not words seem to be his motto. Success can not help but be his in any walk of life.

John, the "slim boy," as he comes to school from day to day, never lingers on the way. We admire his pleasing look and attitude. We hope to hear of his success when he becomes a teacher,

Rudolph is one of the most witty persons in our class, always laughing and "pulling off" bright ejaculations. Nevertheless he insists that all work and no play causes a conjection of the mind. "Sem bound" is his motto.

Age 19 Years

Here's our puzzle. How he has become so great, the class as a whole hardly knows. He has won many friends and honors while here in school. Lex is always jolly and ready to work. He has also made his mark in athletics, especially football. "Lex," we wish you success.

Age 22 Years

"Pap" is another one of those goodhearted Cabarrus boys, a hard worker and a brilliant student. As our class president he has guided us with a fatherly care. We wish him great success at Duke, and may his high ambition, to be "a Statesman and Scholar," be realized.

Old "Phil," the only living rival of the Ancient Mariner, has become a permanent fixture at the Institute. "Phil" has been with us so long that he is afraid to throw stones up on the campus for fear of hitting some of his children. His motto has been, throughout his stay here, "Students may come and students may go but I stay on forever." Although we say it with a trembling voice, "Phil" we wish you luck.

THE SENIOR CLASS

We arrived in September, cold with fear,
To take our place in the ranks.

A bugle note sounds shrill and clear,
A sure signal for freshmen pranks.

The Freshman Class of 1922 was very large and inexperienced. The habits and regulations of the school were new and unfamiliar to us. Nevertheless, we acquitted ourselves well.

4.4.4

We arrived in September, cold with fear, Because of the work ahead. Sophs, 'tis true, should laugh and leer At books and Profs, 'tis said.

We returned to "Mount" this year with a new vim and spirit because we were Sophs and just one step ahead of our former self. We were proud to be Corporals, in fact we almost admired ourselves. Our names were not on the penality list so much this year as they were on it last year, but regardless of our station, we reaped our part of the spoils. During this year various members of our class failed on one or more subjects. This fact, together with the fact that several of our number dropped out of school, presented us a very hard problem in our Junior year.

We arrived in September, cold with fear,
For year's "conditions" stare,
At the haughty Junior who falls in the rear,
A burden he must bear.

We might well call our Junior year the most fruitful year of all. This year we had the largest single class in the history of the school. We fared well in our studies, athletics, and campus life. Our size and success is largely due to a number of high school graduates who joined us at the beginning of this session. The annual debates and activities of the Junior Class proved to be features of the whole year.

We arrived in September, cold with fear, Greater responsibilities to carry, Records and problems, Seniors to clear, Men, to no longer tarry.

This year finds our class smaller than last year because a number of our classmates have joined the ranks of other colleges. We pushed with self-reliance all through this last year to gain our highest ambition at M. P. C. I., namely, to possess a diploma. When we come to this point of our stay at M. P. C. I., we realize what the school has done for us and how lenient the professors have been with us. We remember the trials and joys which we have passed through, and shudder at the thought of leaving old "Mount" forever.

SENIOR CLASS POEM

I stood beside a garden wall,
Where myriad flowers bloom;
Into my soul the blossoms all
Instilled their sweet perfume.

And while I stood in rapture held,Yea, ere I felt aware,A sense of calmness o'er me fellWhich banished every care.

The flower garden seemed to me
A symbol of God's powers;
A promise that my life might be
As worthy as this class of ours.

And when years have come and gone,
We'll wander back again
To old M. P. C. I., our home,
Where pleasures banish all pain.

THE JUNIORS

UNIORS! Admired by the Freshmen, envied by the Sophomores, respected by the Seniors. Yes! That's who we are. We are now sailing through our third year with flying colors, those same colors which were chosen by us in our Freshman year. Our flower, the White Rose, and our motto, "Aiming Higher," although not remembered by many of us, are the same as when we entered the Institute.

We have taken a great deal of interest in the activities in and around the school, being represented on the varsity football, basketball and baseball teams. And not to be left out or forgotten, we have been fully represented at all social functions. We haven't done anything as yet to startle M. P. C. I. or alarm the Seniors, but there is still plenty of time to make them aware of our existence. The crowning glory of this year, was the long looked for banquet.

Sophomores

OT much honor and dignity is to be expected by the Sophomores at M. P. C. I., in fact we sometimes come to the conclusion that we don't deserve any, due to the fact that we are just in the third lap of the race. We have had many discouraging events within our class, as is the general rule in almost any class. We have the respect of the Sub-Freshmen and Freshmen but there are still two classes that are higher than we are, so our course as a class has its "ups" and "downs" just as any other class must have. However we have one consolation, that is, we have done excellent work in the class-room. We have a hope for still better work next year.

Freshman Thoughts

HEN we came to M. P. C. I. we were jubilant and gay, we left school exulting, imagining ourselves in a military school with all the soldier-boy play. What times we had! What queer lessons! What hard rules! We would study incomprehensible algebra and Latin; all this, together with military.

Ignorant as Sub-Freshmen were, we've gotten knock and pain. Of course by now we are Freshmen, and Freshmen are "supposed to know a few things," for experience teaches where nothing else will. We still know what it is to be "Fresh," however we have learned to love and know the Institute just as much as anyone else.

Last September when we entered school we were just a little irritated by the fact that "Fresh" was still to be prefixed to our class name. However our hopes were brightened when several of our number received military appointments in the Cadet Corp. Carl Honeycutt helped us along, in spirit, by winning the Declaimers' Medal. We have enjoyed our Literary Society work, we have made good grades. . . . Well, we are going to deserve the name of Sophomore next year.

MILITARY REVIEW

HE military department at M. P. C. I. is a very important feature. Although carried on in somewhat of a modified form, it affords valuable training for young men, especially is this true of those young men who come from the city and who need physical development. Military training is beneficial not only as a physical builder but also as a mind trainer.

It causes men to think, to concentrate, and to learn to act in a systematic manner and to act promptly.

At M. P. C. I. the cadet corps is divided into two companies, "A" and "B." Each year three competitive drills are held, one each term. To the company winning the highest number of points, a beautiful silver trophy cup is awarded. This feature causes much enthusiasm, interest, and friendly rivalry among the cadets. Last year Captain Harward led Company "B" to an overwhelming victory over Company "A."

Another important military feature that arouses spirit and interest among the cadets is that each year a gold medal is awarded to the cadet who proves to be the best drilled in the manual of arms. Last year Cadet Private J. A. Kern proved himself able to handle a rifle better than any other Cadet, thus he carried off the medal.

Military training has proved itself to be a valuable asset to M. P. C. I. It develops that spirit of loyalty, of patriotism, and of enthusiasm and interest which is so characteristic of M. P. C. I.

WONDERFUL WOMEN

Oh, Woman's the greatest of all contradiction; She's an angel in truth, a demon in fiction; She is afraid of a cockroach, she'll scream at a mouse, But she'll tackle a husband as big as a house.

She'll take him for better, she'll take him for worse, She'll split his head open and then be his nurse, Then when he is well and can get out of bed, She'll pick up the teapot and throw at his head.

She's faithful, deceitful, keen-sighted and blind, She's crafty, she's simple, she's crude and she's kind, She'll lift a man up, and throw a man down, She'll call him her king, and make him her clown.

You think she is this, and find she is that, She'll play like a kitten and bite like a cat; In the morning she will, in the evening she won't; You're always expecting she does, but she don't.

COACH CONE

NCE more The Citadel has opened her doors and sent forth into the world a man worthy of her name. A man with the "Bulldog" determination. It was such a man that came to us this fall in the person of Major W. W. Cone. Major Cone has had entire charge of Athletics at M. P. C. I. this year and he has performed this task in such a capable manner that even the most critical have been compelled to say, "Well done." On the football field his indomitable spirit and dynamic energy was transferred, it seems, to the men who were under his instruction. The result of this transfusion was a winning football team. The basketball season was somewhat disastrous, yet Coach Cone was not to blame. The material with which he had to work was most disheartening. His work with the baseball team this spring has been remarkable. All in all Major Cone is the type of a man who could raise the plane of Athletics in any school.

FOOTBALL

REVIEW OF SEASON

LTHOUGH football at M. P. C. I. is still in its infancy, it has established a reputation of which no one can rightly be ashamed. This year's aggregation played seven games, four of which found the "Red Devils," as they were popularly called, trailing the banners of their opponents in the dust. The two defeats suffered came in the early part of the season. The first was due, perhaps, to insufficient practice while the second defeat, on the following Saturday, is accounted for on the grounds that the best team won.

The team which represented M. P. C. I. in the majority of the games was big and aggressive but lacked the punch and drive which is so essential. This defect was remedied, to a certain extent, after the Oak Ridge game by converting linemen into backs and backs into linemen.

The Rockingham game was played on a muddy, water soaked, field by a M. P. C. I. team that had been together a little over one week. The State High School champions, however, were given a hard fight and it was only after brilliant runs by Boyer and Hiner that they were able to emerge on the long end of a 12 to 0 score. The team was not at all disheartened after this defeat but journeyed to Oak Ridge to play the State Prep School champions. Throughout the first half of this game M. P. C. I. doggedly fought off the repeated drives of the "Ridgers." During the second half, however, M. P. C. I. weakened and allowed 26 points to be scored against her. Next on schedule the "Red Devils" met the highly touted Davidson Athletic Club which boasted of a galaxy of former college stars. The result was a tie score. This game marked the end of defeat for M. P. C. I. In due order the "Red Devils" romped down the field in the four succeeding games to well-earned victories and to the close of a most successful season.

M. W. COPELAND, Fullback

From South Carolina came a chap with football sense and a Herculean physique. "Cope" was tried at guard but when the smoke of the general shake-up of the team had cleared away he found himself at fullback. He is a hard man to stop when once started.

JOBIE GOODMAN, Halfback

Jobie, during this, his second year of football, established an enviable reputation for himself. He is perhaps the surest handler of passes and punts on the squad. Height, speed and plenty of nerve are a few of the things that Jobie possessed and incidentally these qualifications are very essential to the make-up of a real football player.

W. C. SMITH, Halfback

All Smith's are fast judging from the two that represented M. P. C. I. this year. "Little" Smith, as he is commonly called, was a clever broken field runner. His fierce tackling and "never-saydie" spirit made him one of the mainstays of this year's team. Curtis was one of the few experienced men who entered last fall. With two more years ahead of him he looks like the future star of M. P. C. I.

C. P. MacLaughlin, Quarterback

"Chuck," our captain, led the team through a most successful season. His line plunging and off-tackle running made him a dependable man in the backfield. He was always in the thickest of the fight, encouraging his men to "goget-'em." This fighting spirit won him a place on the "all-State" Prep school team. "Chuck" has been a faithful servant in all branches of athletics and we regret to lose him this year.

小小小

W. T. Mock, End

This season saw a new fellow inducted into the ranks of football. "Tommy" played his first football in the High Point College game. His ability to tear down interference, snatch passes, and never failing quickness to get down the field on punts ranks him with the best.

W. C. THOMAS, Tackle

Powerful and steady as a rock wall, "Lefty" stood the whole season. Not once did his side of the line sway on his account. "Lefty" has made varsity football for two years and not once has he been out of the game. He has played the entire period of every game for two years, thus making for himself a record which is hard to equal.

C. K. Walters, Guard

"Fight," it has been said, is a characteristic of "Red-heads." "Red" is no exception. Throughout the entire season "Red" lived up to this time honored characteristic. He played his man well, making an ideal running mate for Hinson. He will be lost to next year's team and his absence will be felt a great deal.

A. H. MACLAUGHLIN, Center

"Lex," another "all-State" man, is a big rangy chap and makes an ideal pivot man. He was the mainstay of the line throughout the season. A hard-worker, a fighter, a punter and a real football player is sufficient to describe "Lex." He was one of the few lettermen on this year's team and we hate to lose him next year.

T. E. HINSON

A tower of strength in the line who never gave an inch without a fight. "Teddy" was noted for breaking through the line, tackling men and smearing plays. To gain over him seemed almost impossible. From all appearances "Ted" will be the mainstay of next year's line.

A. K. Weisner, Tackle

This husky individual is none other than "Tony," the "big boy" of our line. Tony was a tower of strength on the defense. He was at his best in the Davidson A. C. game, smearing the opponent's plays before they could get started. This is Tony's last year but we know that he will make someone hustle next year wherever he may go.

 $\phi + \phi$

JOE SMITH, End

Football prospects were brightened a great deal by Joe's belated arrival on the campus this fall. Joe played a consistent game at end after he was shifted from backfield. A deadly tackler, and a sure receiver of passes, made Joe a valuable terminal man.

* * *

H. T. LAMOTTE, End

This plucky little end sprang into fame in the Wingate game. In the closing minutes of the play he intercepted a forward pass and "wiggled" through the entire Wingate team for 30 yards and a touchdown.

A. B. Bailes, Center

A fighter and a hard worker is Boyce. These qualities have made him valuable to this year's outfit. "Sajor" has two more years here, consequently a great deal is to be expected of him.

W. S. AGEE, Halfback

At the beginning of the football season, Agee was one of the men who loomed up as a strong halfback. In all probability this would have proved true had it not been for injuries received during a practice game at the very first of the season. He is a fast and dependable man in the backfield and should prove a great help to next year's squad.

 $\div + \div$

R. E. Greene, End

"Chick's" make-up is "Ben Turpin" style, but this gave him an advantage, for the opposition were unable to tell where he was looking. He is an aggressive, scrappy end and should push somebody hard next year.

VARSITY BYSKETBALL, SQUAD

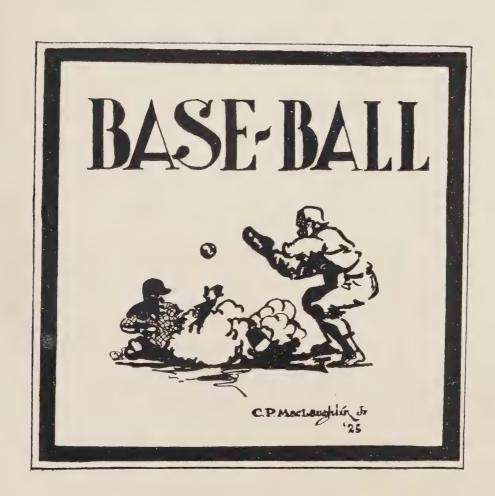

BASKETBALL

N years past the Institute has put out basketball teams which have bespoken for the Institute high honor and praise. Last year the team romped to victory after victory, thus completing a most successful season. With this fact in mind and with all but three of the Varsity squad back this season, the outcome of this year's schedule seemed even brighter than last year's. But as fate would have it, it seemed that every material force worked against us. First of all we were handicapped by a late start and the lack of a suitable indoor court. Next, two of last year's stars, "Chuck" MacLaughlin, Guard, and "Jobie" Goodman, Center, were ruled off the team on account of certain handicaps.

The schedule consisted of seven games, although losing most of these, a hard fight was put up at all times. Probably the hardest fought game of the whole season was with Carolina Freshmen. The Cadets put up a wonderful fight and for a time it seemed that victory was ours. However, Carolina, with her superior team work, good shooting, and greater height in the end nosed out to victory.

When we look at the scores we are prone to think that the season was a failure, but when we consider the circumstances which the team labored under and also the fact that a number of promising candidates for the team next year were discovered, we are just a bit inclined to believe that the season was not such a bad failure after all.

BASEBALL

HE baseball outlook was exceedingly black at the outset of the season with but three men back from last year's team. Coach Cone, however, was greatly encouraged by the showing of the new men and an impressive schedule was arranged. The 1925 aggregation developed into one of the hardest hitting teams since the days of Smithdeal and Watts.

To "Dude" Allman and the "Watts boys" must go the honor of being the hardest hitters on the squad. The Watts boys should, perhaps, have a share in the just praise which is prevalent about the campus. A great deal of the team's success is due to our popular Captain and Shortstop, "Guber" Watts, he building up a winning combination from the material that was available.

While it is true that the team was on the short end of some games that seemed hard to lose yet it is also true that they won some brilliant victories.

M. C. Watts, Thomas, and Thomason did the bulk of the hurling this season.

We had a fast, snappy infield and a dependable, steady outfield. The pitchers showed plenty of "stuff" in the pinches but the team seemed to lack the consistency which is so necessary for a winning team.

STUDENT Y. M. C. A. GROUP

THE Y. M. C. A. AT THE INSTITUTE

EALIZING the importance of spiritual as well as physical and mental development, the Young Men's Christian Association has taken upon itself part of that duty at the Collegiate Institute. It will be remembered by every student that early in the fall, when they first arrived at the Institute, the Y. M. C. A. began its work of making life here on the campus just a bit more pleasant, more interesting, and more enjoyable. Under the influence of the "Y" many of the fellows were made to feel the value of, and enjoy to a great extent, life at the Institute, especially the social side.

Not so very long after the session had started, the "Y" issued its Bible study books. Interesting programs were always rendered in the Y. M. C. A. study classes, especially when Louis Griggs would become enthusiastic over some timely topic. Before the end of the session, the effect and influence of these Bible study classes became quite apparent among the students. As some eminent divine has said, "It makes them appreciate life and the things of life."

The Y. M. C. A. approaches the student at the Institute from two angles, namely, devotional and social. Although the devotional side is by far the more apparent, the social side is equally as interesting. From the hands of the Y. M. C. A., the students have enjoyed three receptions this year. Of course the Y. M. C. A. would have been helpless in entertaining the Cadets without the necessary assistance of the fair students of M. A. S., but as it was, the "Y" had plenty of help.

MAY SUCCESS BE YOURS

MONT AMOENA SEMINARY IS AN ACCREDITED SCHOOL

Has Done Wonderful Work in Completing the Education for Many of State's Finest Women

Are you looking for an A1 fitting school with a wholesome Christian atmosphere? Mont Amoena Seminary, Mount Pleasant, N. C., is founded upon the principle that Christian training is fundamental in education. Its atmosphere is deeply religious and open to all Protestant creeds.

Are you contemplating fitting yourself for entrance into an A1 college? Mont Amoena will prepare you for entrance without examination.

Would you like to make piano, or voice, or both, special subjects? You will find advantages here equal to any in fitting schools. Our piano contests at the Greensboro state contest won high praise, and the quartet trained by our music department won the loving cup. We have fine advantages in voice as well as in piano.

Do you desire to fit yourself as a stenographer, typist, book-keeper or office secretary? Mont Amoena offers these advantages under the protecting care of a Christian institution, in a cheerful and helpful atmosphere.

Do you want the fundamentals in education and music which will fit you for a successful life? Mont Amoena has exactly what you need.

Are you seeking a trustworthy school for your daughter? Let us tell you why you should send her to Mont Amoena.
